

Announcing the publication of Yeh Yeh's House—A Memoir about growing up Chinese in America by Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra Musician Evelina Chao...

“Evelina Chao’s quest for her family’s past—and present—is a rare addition to the classic American story of immigration and its discontents. Chao manages to capture the paradox of attraction and repulsion, comedy and heartbreak in the dislocation of cultures. She illuminates the astonishing refusal of time to erase memory even as it destroys a whole world and makes family foreigners to each other. YEH YEH’S HOUSE is radiant, intensely moving, the fat of sentimentality utterly burned away.”

—PATRICIA HAMPL, AUTHOR OF A ROMANTIC EDUCATION AND I COULD TELL YOU STORIES

“Evelina Chao’s memoir is a passionate and poignant tale of family, history, healing and reconciliation. For all of us who have had to assimilate and balance dreams with expectations, this journey of self-reckoning will serve as a gratifying inspiration.”

—TERRENCE CHENG, AUTHOR OF SONS OF HEAVEN

Meet the Author:

- BOOK SIGNING AT BOUND TO BE READ BOOKSTORE, 870 Grand Avenue, St. Paul on Thursday, December 9 at 7 PM
- BOOK SIGNING AT MICAWBER’S BOOKS, 2238 Carter Avenue, St. Paul on Wednesday, December 15 at 7 PM
- BOOK SIGNING AT BARNES AND NOBLE, 3225 W. 69 St., Edina on Tuesday, January 18 at 7:30 PM
- SIGNINGS AFTER SPCO CHAMBER MUSIC CONCERTS on December 10 and 12, after HOLIDAY CONCERTS on December 17 and 18 and after FANFARES on January 14 and 15.

Available Wherever Books Are Sold.

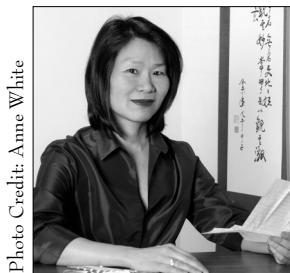

Photo Credit: Anne White

EVELINA CHAO, an alumnus of The Juilliard School, holds the chair of Assistant Principal Viola of the Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra, where she has appeared as soloist. Her novel, Gates of Grace, was published in 1985. In 2001, she established her practice as a certified Life Coach. She shares a home in St. Paul with bassist Fred Bretschger.

St. Martin's Press